

Is there a perfect moment for new adventures? Yes, NOW!

KRUSH

We're looking for

- Operations Intern
- Supply Chain Intern
- Marketing Intern

Join us, and make a difference in the world!

Who we are

At KRUSH, we are on a mission to rescue food/fight food waste. We are trying to make people's first choice in the morning a sustainable one: Tasty, healthy, and sustainable breakfast products with the potential to change the way we look at food waste.

“Waste is not waste before it's wasted.”

The agricultural sector is responsible for a significant part of global greenhouse gases. At the same time, 1/3 of the global produced food is not eaten in the end. If you've read this and said, “What are we waiting for? Let's do something about it”, you already fulfil the most crucial requirement for this position: Enthusiasm to rescue food!

What do we do?

We make delicious breakfast products from rescued food, which are also low in sugar.

Whom are we looking for?

A food enthusiast looking for a fun, new challenge and wants to learn more about startups. Work experience is a pro but not required. Also, amazing if you already know something about supply chains/ sourcing/ operations/ logistics/ food safety. Definitely let us know about that. We'd love you to work +/- 2 days/week with us (we're very flexible when these hours are spent or happy to work something out if you have less time).

Are you interested or want to know more about this opportunity?

Email your resume (or link to your LinkedIn) to michelle@krushfood.com

Do you know someone who's a great fit to become our new Intern?

Please share!

www.krushfood.com

krush_rescue_food